OVERVIEW

Noah is a member of the Professional Liability Department where he focuses his practice on representing and defending clients in insurance coverage, first party property claims and bad faith litigation.

Prior to joining the firm, Noah began his legal career as an associate attorney with a local general practice Plaintiff firm handling a myriad of matters involving employment related discrimination and unpaid wages claims as well as contract disputes throughout the State and Federal court system.

Noah then took his knowledge of civil litigation to the defense side when he joined a defense firm where he handled and managed hundreds of pre-suit and litigated claims focusing primarily on first party property matters. While at the previous defense firm, Noah presented several seminars to property insurance industry professionals throughout Florida on matters involving property law updates in Florida, claims and litigation handling techniques and strategies and ethical requirements in claims handling.

Noah earned his bachelor's degree in Business Administration from the University of Florida's Warrington College of Business Administration and his juris doctor from University of Miami's School of Law. Outside the practice of law, Noah enjoys spending time with his family, traveling, playing golf and the beach.
