OVERVIEW

Alexa Shello is an associate in the Casualty Department defending corporations, individuals, and local governments in complex civil litigation. She handles cases involving premises liability, liquor liability, products liability, and catastrophic injury/wrongful death in Pennsylvania's state and federal courts. Additionally, Alexa assists clients with design and construction defect claims, trucking and automobile accidents, slip and fall incidents, and negligent security claims.

Originally from Long Valley, New Jersey, Alexa graduated in 2019 with an undergraduate degree in Entrepreneurship and Management & Leadership from Rider University, where she was also a member of the Women's Division I Volleyball Team. In 2023, Alexa earned her juris doctor from Duquesne University School of Law. During her time there, she received the Appellate Oral Argument Designation, participated in the Wills and Healthcare Clinic, and interned with the University of Pittsburgh Athletic Compliance department.

Prior to joining Marshall Dennehey, Alexa worked for a defense firm handling similar matters as well as representing plaintiffs in contract disputes.
