OVERVIEW

For nearly 20 years, Sang has successfully handled hundreds of civil litigation, bodily injury and property damage matters in the Philadelphia region. Having served as lead counsel in hundreds of cases, Sang brings a wealth of experience accrued during his long tenure as a defense attorney.

He has successfully tried numerous cases to verdict including jury trials, bench trials, and arbitrations both in state and federal court.

Sang has significant experience handling civil defense litigation on matters ranging from premises liability to personal and commercial auto as well as products liability. A creative problem solver, he is entrusted by clients with their most important matters to bring solutions to each case. Sang's premises liability claims have included construction sites, shopping malls, office buildings, residential properties, sidewalks, streets, and other locations. Motor vehicle cases have involved tractor trailers, bucket trucks, rideshare vehicles and taxis, buses, motorcycles, and all-terrain vehicles. Sang has handled complicated products liability cases, defending manufacturers and sellers of fire suppressants, tow trucks, forklifts, ropes, home improvement products, construction equipment, personal goods, and foods.

Throughout his career, Sang has lectured on topics ranging from premises liability and construction accidents to indemnity issues and wage loss claims. He is a member of the Philadelphia Association of Defense Counsel, where he has served on the Executive Committee for 6 years. He is also an active member of Defense Research Institute, The Claims & Litigation Management Alliance (CLM), Philadelphia Bar Association, and the Asian Pacific American Bar Association.

Sang graduated from Yale University with a Bachelor of Arts degree in Political Science. He received his juris doctor from Temple University School of Law, where he was the managing editor of the Temple International Comparative Law Journal.
